

UNIVERSITÀ
DI CAMERINO

Camerino, 5th March 2020

Dear students,

as you may know, the Council of Ministers in Italy decided to extend the measures to contain the spread of the infection with Coronavirus to the whole national territory. For this reason, until March 15 2020 all the frontal lectures with the physical presence of the students are suspended. Anyway, lessons can be given in telematic teaching mode

Therefore, starting from Monday, March 9 until March 15, scheduled lessons will be given only in telematic mode using the webex platform: the Schools to which you belong will inform you, through their websites, about the beginning of the lessons

Lessons may also be held with the physical presence of the students as soon as possible. Students who are unable to attend lessons can keep on using the webex platform as well.

From Monday March 9 and until further notice, graduation sessions and exams may be held in attendance but must necessarily respect the precautions aimed at reducing close contacts. For written exams there must be a minimum distance between participants, no more than one seat occupied every three. For oral examinations, access to the classroom will be allowed only to one candidate at a time and two witnesses.

Until further notice, exams and degree sessions can take place also in telematic mode, as specified in the Rectoral Decree of 4/3/2020 available on our website.

I am aware that conflicting reports may have caused a great deal of confusion, but, as you know, Unicam always publishes all the news on the home page of its Institutional website. So, please check the website regularly and read carefully all news and updates. All official information are available there: please comply with the prescription published on the website.

I also ask you to consider this timeframe as a different way to use the services and educational activities that Unicam has never stopped providing: your health, your well-being and your training are our priority, always; for this reason, for days, we have been working tirelessly, to provide you with all you may need, in compliance with guidelines and standards we must adhere to

You are the present of our future: keep on working together to make our future bright. And so it will be.

Warm regards

The Rector
Prof. Claudio Pettinari
