can also be members of the Commission. Foreign Commissioners must have an equivalent academic qualification.

Any instances of recusal of one or more members of the Judging Commission by candidates, if the conditions set out in art. 51 of the Code of Civil Procedure apply, must be submitted to the Rector within the peremptory term of thirty days from the publication in the Official Gazette of the Italian Republic of the decree appointing the Commission. 2. if the number of candidates exceeds six, the Commission will carry out a preliminary evaluation of the candidates, aimed at identifying a shortlist of the most deserving ones, admitted to the public discussion of qualifications and scientific production, whose number cannot be less than six or more than 20% of the candidates. The Commission evaluates, with justified analytical judgment, (individual and collective) the qualifications, curriculum and scientific production of the candidates, including the doctoral thesis, according to the criteria provided for by art. 24 of Law 240/2010 and by Ministerial Decree 243 of 25 May 2011.

The Commission is required to apply the principles expressed in the European Charter for Researchers on qualitative and quantitative evaluation of merit. This evaluation emphasises the exceptional results obtained in a diversified personal pathway and not only the number of publications, and appropriately considers teaching and supervision activities, team work, knowledge transfer, research management, innovation and public awareness activities. Career breaks aimed at conducting other experiences in public or private entities, or changes in the chronological order of the curriculum are considered as a contribution to the professional development of researchers in a multidimensional pathway. Any experience of mobility or a change of discipline or sector are considered valuable contributions.

With regard to scientific production, for each candidate the Commission, in the collective judgment, indicates the degree of creativity and autonomy (as envisaged by the Human Resources Strategy for Researchers).

Once the shortlist has been defined, or, if the shortlist is not necessary, after evaluation of the qualifications, curriculum and scientific production of the candidates, the Commission establishes the date of the public discussion.

In this connection, in order to verify their knowledge of the English language, candidates must carry out, remotely and publicly in front of the Judging Commission, a short seminar in English on a freely chosen topic related to their qualifications and scientific production.

At the same time, candidates will discuss their qualifications and publications with the Commission.

The calendar relating to the seminar will be communicated to the interested parties with at least 7 days' notice.

To take the interview, candidates must be in possession of a valid identification document.

Failure of the candidate to be present at the discussion is considered an explicit and definitive manifestation of the will to renounce the selection.

The Commission proceeds with the attribution of scores, reserving 20% of the overall score for the seminar, solely in relation to ascertaining an adequate knowledge of the English language, and 80% for the qualifications and research products presented by the candidates, and possibly concludes its work by 31 December 2021.

The proceedings of the Commission consist of the minutes of the individual meetings, of which the individual and collective judgments expressed on each candidate form an integral part, as well as the summary report on the work carried out.

Once the work has been completed, the Commission of selection delivers the competition documents to the Head of the procedure.

The Rector verifies the formal regularity of the documents, with his own decree, which is advertised on the University website.

In the event that irregularities are found, the Rector sends the documents back to the Commission with a motivated provision, assigning it a term.

Art. 8 Taking up the position

The Council of the School that requested the competition, with a motivated resolution and with a favourable vote of the absolute majority of first and second level Professors, formulates the proposal for the candidate to take up the position, taking into account the evaluation by the Commission and the teaching and research needs of the School.

The proposal is approved by a resolution of the Board of Trustees.

Art. 9 Employment relationship and contractual clauses

Each Researcher taking up a position will be subject to the positive evaluation of the project by M.U.R. and to the signing, where required, of an agreement with the financing organization, as established in the deliberation of the Board of Trustees of 29 September 2021.

The Researcher taking up a position establishes a fixed-term employment relationship with the University of Camerino, through the stipulation of a private law contract of a subordinate nature.

The activities covered by the contract are the following: research, teaching, supplementary teaching and student services, including guidance and tutoring.

The winner, for the purposes of carrying out the research project, must compulsorily carry out a period of his or her activity with subjects that carry out business activities and, where applicable, at a foreign institution, indicated by the proposing Professor.

The contract will last three years and may be extended, only once and for only two years, after evaluating the teaching and research activities carried out. Fixed-term researchers carry out research and scientific updating activities, trying to improve and broaden their knowledge and skills. The research activity is subject to verification of the results, according to the criteria established by ANVUR. The overall annual commitment for carrying out teaching, supplementary teaching and student service activities is 350 hours for the full-time regime and 200 hours for the part-time regime.

UNICAM, also in relation to the pursuit of internationalization as its strategic goal, requires the commitment of fixed-term researchers to hold lectures and seminars in English in UNICAM offices and in those with which the University enters into agreements.

Disciplinary competence is governed by art. 10 of Law 240/2010.

The appointment is made by an act of the Rector and is subject to verification of the conditions envisaged by the regulatory provisions on hiring into service.
