

Saverio Santangelo

Associate professor in Urban Planning

Sapienza University of Rome, PDTA Department

Short Cv

Graduate in Architecture cum laude in the 1988, at the University of Rome "La Sapienza", with discussion of the thesis in Planning.

Advanced school in Theories of Architecture, 1988/89, University "La Sapienza" of Rome, in connection with the CEAA, Villemin Ecole d'Architecture in Paris, and AA School in London.

Certificat d'Etudes Approfondies en Architecture (CEAA) in Theories de l'Architecture, 1989/90.

Master in "Methods and tools for urban planning", University "La Sapienza" of Rome, 1990/91 and 1995/96.

Ph.D. in "Urban and Regional Planning", University of Rome "La Sapienza", 1992/1995

Position and activities in Sapienza University of Rome

Associate professor in Urban Planning, scientific-disciplinary sector ICAR/21, PDTA Department, Sapienza University of Rome. He holds the course of Urban Planning in the five-years degree course in Architecture.

He works on the field of public action within urban planning, strategic planning, social housing and sustainable development.

Scientific coordinator in the European funded project Interreg MED COASTING, on behalf of Sapienza University, PDTA Department.

He is part of the PhD Council in Planning, Design and Technology of Architecture.

He works in organizational and management activity in both Architecture Faculty and PDTA Department.

Main current research interests and fields

Briefly, in the last years, the major research interests and applied research were:

- public action within urban planning;
- strategic planning and local development;
- bottom up approach in planning;
- sustainable development;
- social and affordable housing;
- planning for metropolitan areas;
- role of urban planning in the local welfare;
- relationship between knowledge and action in planning.

He also worked in urban and regional planning and participated in strategic planning processes and in other activities related to planning, in academia and outside academia.

Other main teaching and research activities carried out at the Sapienza University

As a researcher / teacher he has worked in integrated degree courses of the of Architecture and Economics Faculty: three-year degree course in Planning and Land Management and the Environment, and Master in Planning and Environmental Assessment, and Regional Planning.

In this integrated degree courses he taught as holder of following teachings: Basics of Urban Planning; Workshop of Urban Planning; Strategic Planning; Urban project management.

Since 2005 he is responsible of several researches in the University of Rome La Sapienza.

Since 2007 he is member of the Research Centre Fo.cu.s. (Training, Culture, History), which aims to enhance the small historic towns and related landscape and environment systems.

Since 2009 he is member of the teachers College of the Urban Planning Ph.D. of department PDTA, Sapienza University of Rome.

Since 2011 he is in the Scientific Council and he teaches in the Master ACT of Sapienza University - Development and management of small historic towns.

Since 2018 he is in the Scientific Council and he teaches in the Master URBAM of Sapienza University - Urban planning in public administration.